The Convocation of Episcopal Churches in Europe

June 8, 2010.

Dear all,

We, the nominating committee for the Convocation of Episcopal Churches in Europe, invite you to consider the following positions that will be open and are to be voted on at our next convention in Nice, France.

The positions to be filled are:

Council of Advice : two clergy and two lay
General Convention : four clergy, four lay and one alternate for each
Disciplinary Board : four clergy and three lay
Secretary of Convention : one clergy or lay

The Council of Advice would benefit from someone who is a lawyer and someone who has accounting experience. The role of the Council is to support the Bishop and represent the people of the Convocation. One is elected for a two-year term with the possibility of running for the next two years. There are four meetings a year usually from Thursday evening to Saturday afternoon along with one or two conference calls. The first meeting is always the Sunday of the Convention and the last meeting is the Thursday morning before the beginning of Convention.

The General Convention is meeting from July 4-13, 2012 and will take place in Indianapolis, Indiana. Please check the Episcopal Church web site for full information about the work of the General Convention.

The Disciplinary Board is created to discipline clergy only. It will meet as needed.

Take some time to consider these positions and nominate either yourself or someone you feel would bring the skills and talents needed for the position in question.

One can either be nominated by one person or self-nominated.

Please take note that in all cases, the individual is to be a member in good standing. As a reminder a member in good standing is an individual who is baptized and supports the parish/mission financially.

The biographies will be sent to the Secretary of the Convention, The Rev. Richard Cole.
